Ask your 2 peers about:

- What felt intuitive vs. confusing
- Whether the quest created a sense of togetherness / IRL collaboration
- Moments of delight
- Any slowdowns or unclear steps
- What would have improved their experience

What felt intuitive vs. confusing

Intuitive

- Recording Signals
- Creating Xfiti
- Starting Quests
- Switching Quests

Confusing

- Lack of tooltips/ walkthroughs to understand what needs to be done
- I don't know that the signals created are public in nature
- App did not really explain core features in a timely manner
- Didn't understand what's an Xfiti to begin with
- Not able to find quests
- I can see a list of users but not clear what to do with it
- Lack of clear motivation to complete a quest
- Unable to start a UT Austin specific quest
- Difficult to complete a World quest
- On clicking top right I can see feature requests which as a user I don't need to see. Can be captured differently

Whether the quest created a sense of togetherness / IRL collaboration

- Yes, once we figured out what to do

Moments of delight

- Once we figured out what needs to be done, going around places trying to find the signals